

I can't imagine that any American would consider allowing a large media conglomerate to form. It is counter to all principles for which this country stands.